TARIFF REFORM TO BE PRESSED.

dal-National Exposition -Capital Notes.

(Special to The Indianapolis Newa.)

WASHINGTON, December 7.—It is easy to see that Mr. Morrison is determined to make a fight on the tariff. Of course he recognizes this is his last chance, and beside he does not think the next house will be any better able to reason this monotonous question than this one is. His disposition seems to be more reasonable, too, than it was last session. Probably the defeat of his efforts to take up the bill last session, coupled with his defeat at the polls, has taken some of the confidence out of him and made him willing to accept anything he can get. It is illing to accept anything he can get. It is elieved that he will try first for his own believed that he will try first for his own bill, and in case he fails on that he will move to take up the Randall tariff bill. Mr. Morrison has expressed himself in favor of taking whatever he can get in the way of adjustment of the tariff, and that as soon as it can be had. His friends are expressing a desire to see some agreement reached on this subject. "I shall advise him," said General Oates, of Alabama, one of the most conservative of the house democrats, "I shall advise him to first try his own bill and advise him to first try his own bill and if we get a readjustment and a moderate re-duction, one which will reduce our revenue somewhat, so that the surplus in the treasury need not go piling up when the 3 per cent. bonds are paid, and so that the people will be rid of some of the burdens of taxation, if get the reduction that we want, I am in favor of accepting what we can get."

This seems to be the sentiment of nearly all those who express themselves on the subject, from a democratic standpoint. In fact, Mr. Randall seems to have gained a good deal of ground in the few months since the vacation of congress began. Many of the men who would not consider or discuss the bill are now in favor of taking it as second choice with the hope that a satisfactory compromise may be reached. The general tone of the tariff reform people is very conciliatory, much more so than it was six months ago.

Members arriving from the south bring conderful reports of the growth of that sec-ion. The hum of the spindle and the smoke of the iron furnace are, they say, making wonderful changes in the south. Millions of dollars ing sent into that section by northern capitalists. A very prominent southern cap-italist, one who has made a great deal of italist, one who has made a great deal of money in the past year or two in the growth of the manufacturing interests there, was here recently, returning from New York, where he had been to place a million dollars to play a very important part in the development of certain industries in the south at a mear date. "I find the people of New York looking to the south with the same interest that they looked toward California forty years ago," he said. "I had not the slightest difficulty in disposing of every penny of stock I had at par, and when it began to get toward the end of the list, they actually quarreled to see who should have it. The confidence in the future of the south is perfectly wonderful, and there are bright days ahead for that section."

profit of two or three dollars, must be getting gioh pretty rapidly."

Natural Gas the Obstacle.

The great obstacle that the southern iron manufacturers seem to be having to contend with is the introduction of natural gas for fuel in the Pennsylvanis Iron works. How long this supply will last and how long they will be able to get it as cheaply as they do now nobody can answer. The south still lacks the artificial facilities for making steel in large quantities, but now that it is decided that steel can be made there so very cheaply, there is no doubt that the machinery for this purpose will pour into this section with great rapidity. But the beginning of this movement is already announced in the erection of a plant for the manufacture of steel in Alabams, and where one capitalist goes to be nearer the source of the iron supply, because it cheapens production, others will follow, if it be found that, as a consequence of the transfer, a larger profit can be made on the manufactured article. But to other workers in iron this same question appears at this time to be addressing itself. It is conceded, by those whose business it is to acquire such knowledge, that the manufacture of stoves has been for years the leading business of the dities of Albany and Troy, N. Y., and that these two clices had come to be regarded as the controlling center of that great trade. Latterly, however, it has been so cut into by the competition of western stovemakers that one of the large manufacturers at Albany issued some time since a circular wherein he attact that in consequence of the greater cheapness of pig iron in Alabams, he had found it necessary to close his works in Albany and Troy stovemkers are mid to be contemplating a similar move-

I know a firm in my district that went up there a couple of mouths ago, to Birmingham, and bought a half dozen lots for a speculation. They have sold most of them now, and I saw their figures the other day. They have made over $60,000 on their investment. Lots in the best part of Birmingham now sell at a thousand dollars a front foot. There is a tremendous rush of people there. A short time ago I met a party of my acquaintances going up there to make some investments. The next time I saw them they told me they found the town so full of speculators that they could not get accommodations at any of the hotels. There is a project on foot now for the erection of a hotel which, with its grounds and furnishings, will cost nearly a half million dollars."

"What makes this tremendous boom for Birmingham, general?"

"The iron manufacturing facilities. They have cal and fron there in close relations, and all the railroads of the country seem to be centering there. It is a cold day in Birmingham when there are not one or two new railroads being built into the town."

The Telephone Case.
Solicitor Jenks and Mr. Chandler returned consulting Senator Thurman on the telephone case. It was decided to dismiss the case brought at Columbus, and bring it anew in Boston at once. The report that it is to be appealed to the supreme court is incorrect.

Appropriations for Judians.

Appropriations for Indiana. WASHINGTON, December 7.—Secretary Manning's recommendations to congress for appropriations to pay expenses in Indiana revenue collections are as follows: Sixth district, $18,000; seventh, $19,500; eleventh, district, $18,000; seventh, $19,500; eleventh, $14,000. The secretary recommends, also, an appropriation of $11,500 for approaches to and heating apparatus for the government building at New Albany; $150,000 for continuing improvement of the outer harbor, and $3,125 for continuing dredging the inner harbor of Michigan City; $10,000 for improvement of the Wabash river above Vincennes, and $100,000 below Vincennes; $17,500 for completing the improvement of White river, and $50,000 for the Cajumet river.

duty than will be ample to cover any increased cost of production which may exist in consequence of the higher rate of wages prevailing in this country, appears so obviously hopeless and impracticable that any further attempts at revision by the present congress, in contravention to the foregoing cardinal declarations, are to be regarded as inexpedient and detrimental to the revival of the trade and industry of the country."

Mr. Morrill gave notice that he would, the day after to-merrow, submit to the senate some remarks on the subject.

In the house Mr. Adams, of Illinois, introduced a bill which provides that banks having a capital of $500,000 or less shall not be required to keep on deposit bonds in excess of one-tenth of their capital stock as security for ther circulating notes; and such of those banks as have on deposit bonds in excess of one-tenth of their capital stock as security for the circulation by the deposit of lawful money as provided by law, provided that the amount of such circulating notes shall not exceed in any case 90 per cent, of the par value of the bonds deposited as herein provided.

Mr. Dawes offered the following resolution, which was also laid over and ordered printed: Resolved, That the committee on finance be instructed to inquire and report as soon as practicable what specific reduction can be made in customs duties and internal taxes, which, in their judgment, reduce the receipts of the necessary and economical expenditures of the government, without impairing the prosperity and development of home industries or the compensation of home labor.

ANNUAL MESSAGE.

COMMENTS ON IT BY THE PRESS,

And Secretary Manning's Recommend tions-The Opinions of the New York and Foreign Papers.

Speaker Carlisle can say that he was not onsulted in regard to the message and knew consulted in regard to the message and knew nothing whatever in sidvance concerning its recommendations, and similar ignorance was felt by other democratic leaders in congress, the same unfortunate state of affairs that prevented action at the last session is seen to be still existent. It is unfortunate that President Cleveland has not seen fit to place himself in confidential and mutually helpful relations with the leaders of his party in congress, or with other exponents of democratic sentiment. It is only by the active co-operation of its leaders that party governcratic sentiment. It is only by the active co-operation of its leaders that party govern-ment can be successful; and that the presi-dent does not seek, but rather repeis such co-operation, there is little hope of harmonious action by the departments of the govern-ment. To drop a perfunctory personal mes-sage upon the desks of members, as a newtosage upon the desks of members, as a newspaper might be laid there, is not the manner in which the early presidents recognized their leadership of a party and their responsibility for the promotion of its principles." The Tribane says: "In truth, it is not precisely a great message, nor does it shed much light on events; but, in the main, it fairly sets forth the opinions and illustrates the qualifications of the party which selected Mr. Cleveland for its president."

It is difficult to tell what the Sun thinks of the message, as the following is the near-tions and suggestions, they will do themselves credit and will stand better with their con-stituents and the country than many of them do now." In regard to the report of Secre-tary Manning, the Tribune says: "Jacob's tary Manning, the Tribune says: "Jacob's voice; Esau's hand. It is called Secretary Manning's report, but it is not a report, and the greater part of it does not appear to be Secretary Manning's. It is not a report, but an editorial argument or speech on the silver question and the tariff. The bulk of the argument is not in harmony with the most argument is not in harmony with the most important specific recommendation of the secretary nor with the conduct of the treasury department for the past four months. Ever since Mr. Marble offered to 'ring fire bell in night,' his peculiarities of style have been recognized by many of his fellow-citizens, who will have no hesitation in giving him credit for the grace of expression in this argument. The opinions are those which Mr. Marble has constantly advocated, they are not those which have recently determined years ago," he said. "I had not the slightest difficulty in disposing of every penny of stock I had at par, and when it began to get toward the end of the list, they actually quarreled to see who should have it. The confidence in the future of the south is persented for that section."

Washington, pecember 7.—A number of bollowing comments are made on Sectivity wonderful, and there are bright days ahead for that section."

Will it justify the confidence that the capitalists are expressing in these large inwaters?"

"Undoubtedly. We can make iron and manufacture cotton there cheaper than anywhere else in the country. We have all the labor and capital instantial facilities right at hand, iron, coal, limestone, cheap labor, cotton, water power and cheap transportation. Better than all that, we have a spirit of enterprise and renewed energy among the people of that rection. We welcome the northern people with hospitable hands, but not to bloody graves, as used to be said. Whatever there may have been of ill the action of the department."

physical suffering, the firm and even fervided advocacy of principles that have attracted no support and hardly attention from his party in congress, Mr. Manning is a gifted politician. As we read his emphatic and often brilliant statement of ideas, as important as any secretary since Mr. Chase has had to present, we can not help wondering what would have been the effect if Mr. Cleveland had held a different view of the use of patronage, and if a vota far anspension of silver coinage, payment at the legal tenders and free wool had been made a condition precedent to this distribution of offices in each congressional district. It is better as it is, but the suggestion throws a strong light on the capacity of the democratic majority to accept the advice without being bribed to do so. The boldest and the wisest thing in Mr. Manning's report is the recommendation to use the surplus to pay the legal tenders."

A. Washington special to to the World says: "Mr. Manning's proposition for retiring the greenbacks and supplying their place with silver and gold certificates, is not popular, and will not be approved. I have taked with a number of congressmen on the subjects, of varving shades of belief, and they are all against it. Mr. Bland, of Missouri, who represents the extreme wing of the greenbacks. Mr. Scott, of Eric, who is at he head of a class of financial men, the exact opposite of Mr. Bland, said that he was opposed to Mr. Manning's proposition. He thought that the most dangerous step taken by congress for some time was the authorization last year of the issuing of the silver certificates of small denominations. The retirement of greenbacks and the issuing of silver certificates of small denominations. The retirement of greenbacks and the issuing of silver certificates of small denominations. The retirement of greenbacks and the issuing of silver certificates of small denominations of gold as a standard from the country. ceived, as of equal value. Under the title, "Should the United States give free coinage to silver now?" the secretary says: "The preponderance of public opinion seems overwhelming in favor of lic opinion seems overwhelming in favor of the joint use of both metals. No party and no administration could survive, or would deserve to survive, the deliberate or the unforeseen and unprevented change to a silver basis. But the proof is simple that the free coinage of silver now would at once entail a a silver basis. Offered by the open mint to to both metals, free coinage of silver for silver-owners into legal-tender dollars would stop the use of the mint for tree coinage of gold by gold-owners. It would stop the simultaneous circulation of gold and silver dollars. The gold dollar would be at a premium, and would be exported. Throughout the United States it would make the use of silver in legal-tender payments exclusive, apart from the greenbacks, which use of silver in legal-tender payments ex-clusive, apart from the greenbacks, which would first be used, if possible, to empty the treasury of gold, and then would cease to sig-nify by "dollar" anything else than than the debt of a silver coin— not at all the monetary unit once em-bodied in equivalent coins of the two metals. The free coinage of silver now would not re-It is difficult to tell what the Sun thinks of the message, as the following is the nearest approach to an opinion expressed: "In method and spirit, and especially in its careful study of the department reports, on which it is largely based, Mr. Cleveland's second general message resembles the one sent to congress a year ago."

The Herald says: "It is a good message—clear, plain, not too long, and the facts it sets forth are such as may make every American justly proud of his country and happy that he belongs to it. amounts to $125,000,000 a year, and he argues in favor of removing this tax, and says that the sinking fund will cancel the debt when it becomes due. He advocates a reduction of taxation to an annual revenue sufficient to pay our annual expenditures, and the payment of the unfunded debt of $346,000,000 with the surplus now on hand. In the matter of tax reduction, Mr. Manning says that those taxes should be remitted first which prevent or hinder the sale of our surplus products in foreign markets. These are the duties on raw materials, and the most widely injurious of them all is that on raw wool, which should be at once placed on the free list, and a consequent compensating adjustment of the duties on manufactured woolens.

PHILADELPHIA, December 7.—The will of Ann Waln Ryers, leaving a legacy of $70,000 in trust to the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, was admitted to probate yesterday. Bequests are also made of $10,000 to the home for aged and infirm colored persons; $10,000 to the suffering Indians; $5,000 to the freedmen of the south and west; $5,000 to the Indian seminary at Carlisle, Pa., and $15,000 to various institutions in this city. A codicil declares that, should the testator's stepson, Robert Waln Ryers, meet with business losses sufficient to cause any change in his mode of living, then the will is to be veid and all the testator's real and personal property is to be given to him.

A Female Robber.

Mrs. D. C. Sprague, of Eugene, while waiting for her train at the depot last night, was robbed of her pocket-book, containing $27.20 and s gold ring, and the plunder was afterward traced to the possession of Anna Foster, who was also in the waiting-room, and who left as soon as suspicion was directed toward herself. Mrs. Sprague promised to stay and prosecute the woman, but instead, she took the first train home after her money had been returned, but it is presumed that she will return when the case comes up in the criminal court. The Foster woman has been making her home with Anna Rush, of Clinton street, but she belongs in Shelby-ville. She has been committed for grand jury action.

THE CONSPIRATORS.

DR. THEO. WAGNER'S APPIDAVIT

acy Against Bernhamer, Coy, Spaan and Counselman Before the U. S. Com.

The expected action of the citizens' com-mittee of one hundred in getting at the perpetrators of the recent 'local elecmittee of one hundred in getting at the perpetrators of the recent *local election frauds was taken this afternoon. The failure of the federal grand jury to return indictments obliged the committee to seek other means of redress, and proceedings were consequently instituted before a United States commissioner. Captain Ritter, attorney for the committee, has decided that it would be most effective to bring conspiracy proceedings. Other parties besides those hereinafter named are doubtless suspected of complicity, but it has been deemed advisable to name only those against whom it is reasonably thought a case can be made. Accordingly, by affidavit filed before Commissioner Van Buren this afternoon, by Dr. T. A. Wagner, conspiracy in manipulating election returns, is charged against W. F. A. Bernhamer, Simeon Coy, John H. Connseiman and Henry N. Spaan.

Before me, William A. VanBuren, a United States commissioner, personally appeared Theodore A. Wagner, who, being first duly sworn, deposes and says, that he has good reason to believe and does truly believe, that on the 2d day of November, 1886, an election being then and there holden, certain persons, to-wit; William F. A. Bernhamer, Simeon Coy, Henry D. Spaan and John Counselman, did conspire to geher and with each other, to commit an offense against the United States, that is to say, the said William F. A. Bernhamer and John Counselman, being officers of the said election, and members of the board to canvass the returns thereof, and said William F. A. Bernhamer being the duly elected chairman of said canvassing board, and the said Simeon Coy and Henry D. Spaan, being citizens and voters present at said election and said canvass of the returns thereof, etc., etc., did then and there unlawfully, fraudulently, knowingly and feloniously do a certain act, in pursuance to said conspiracy, to effect the object thereof, which object was then and there to faisely, unlawfully and feloniously to change the tallies, tally-sheets and the returns thereon, and at said election, at the precincus hereinater named, so as to show by false, fraudulent, forged and substituted returns of said tallies, and upon said tally sheets, that one Frank A. Morrison was then and there chosen and elected at said election to the office of coroner of the said county of Marion; whereas, in truth and in fact, he was not chosen and elected to the office of judge of the criminal court of the said county of Marion, whereas in truth and in fact, he was not chosen and elected to the office of judge of the criminal court of the said county of Marion, whereas in truth and in fact, he was not chosen and elected to the office of judge of the criminal court of the said county of Marion, whereas in truth and in fact, he was not chosen and elected to the office of judge of the c

Colonel Robertson, lieutenant-governor-elect, is in the city, and will remain until after the Green Smith injunction proceedings are heard to-morrow. The colonel does not recognize the jurisdiction of the court in this matter, and bases his position upon the constitution, which provides that "contested elections for governor and lieutenant-governor shall be decided by the general assembly the superstance of Lyon, Murray, Peck & Co. have decided, by a unanimous vote, to reduce the capital stock from $50,000 to $55, and Charles C. He intimates that in case of an ad-verse ruling in the courts (which he does not expect), he will not abandon the contest, but will carry it to the legislature, where, as provided in section 4,747, Revised Stat-utes, a committee of seven from each house has final jurisdiction.

Bernhamer In Hot Water.

On Friday last Judge Ayres, of the circuit court, in response to the request of Mrs. Bishop, who has the care of one of the Brennan children, directed that Bernhamer, who has charge of the property, pay to her $100. On Saturday Mr. Byfield called the attention of the court to the mot that this order had not been obeyed, and again the injunction was issued, only to be disregarded. Again, on yesterday, there was a similar action, only this time the order was certified and sent through the regular channels, and still it was disregarded. This morning it came up up again in court; and when Walls, who represented Bernhamer, attempted to smooth the matter over with the court and explain that Bernhamer wanted to make the report complete, there was a sharp wrangle between Byfield and him, ending with the latter telling him that what he was saying was untrue. The court thereupon bluntly called Mr. Byfield to order and he apologized to the court for his language, but refused to take it back so far as Mr. Walls was concerned, and he reiterated it in the hall outside, when Mr. Walls intimated that if Mr. Byfield ever addressed him again in any such manner in the presence of the court he would make he'm settle for it. The melee in the court ended in a sharp order for Bernhamer to present himself at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

This afternoon Bernhamer filed answer tending to show that of the funds in his hands there was a balance of about $161, but the attorney's fees were $100 and the costs $25, with $50 for his personal services, and this would include the entire amount. A demurrer was immediately filed, denying this showing, and the court ordered that the matter be considered later on this afternoon.

The Bernhamer Disharment.

Judge Woods, of the federal court, to-day issued an order in the Bernhamer disharment proceedings, directing the defendant to appear before him next Monday at 10 a. m., to show cause why the prayer of the petitioners, asking for his disbarment, should not be granted. Bernhame

A representative of the Liquor league sai to-day that of all the material gathered in prosecution on Sunday last, there was special desire to proceed against the so-called Union hall club, of which it is said it is included. to the command of the league to close down. It was also claimed by this same representative that he had been so busy perfecting other matters connected with the league that he had been given no opportunity to put this material in the form of a complaint, but despite this boatt there is reason for thinking that the league is beginning to realize that it has been worsted, and is seeking some easy method to let go. Coupled with this is a something more than a rumbe coming to the ear of a News reporter, to the effect that certain democrats have finally prevailed upon the league to "listen to reason," and have promised that with the first of the year, and before the republicans get possession of the state offices, that there shall be a reorganization of the board of police commissioners, which shall relieve Mr. Murphy, and substitute in his place Sterling Holt, and then Travis will be returned to he former duty and some man like h ke Fitchey will be elected superintendent. They are also claiming that the state officers can make no removal of a commissioner save for cause, and that this will continue the majority democratic until January, 1888; further, that, under the constitution, as no man can be elected or appointed to an office for longer than four years, in March next many of the "objectionable" patrolmen will have completed that length of service; and, instead of reappointing them, they will be dropped and others with less zeal for the enforcement of the law will be substituted. All this reads well to democratic ears, but in the language of a Kentuckian, "it's moanshine."

THE Liquor league, it is said, is getting weak in its zeal for a law-abiding Sunday. This, then, is the time for the police authorities to be strong. little information is given; negotiations are in progress, says the president. Upon this topic with commendation, the utterance we quote, with commendation of the London Daily News:

The two governments ought not to allow themselves rest until they have arranged the question. The difficulty seems to be that America wants Sahing, while New England does not want frestrede. The same insatiable greed for protection underlies the difficulty about the disposal of the

In the baneful influence of protection lies probably the chief difficulty in adjusting this fisheries dispute. All difficulties should be promptly swept away. "Unsettled question have no mercy for the peace of nations," and this fisheries question easily contains the germ of vast trouble for us with the British mpire. In this connection the president's urgency for adequate coast defenses finds additional force. There is no power with which we are on more ceremonious terms than England and the absolutely defenseless condition of our Canadian frontier is an invitation for a most disastrous experience at any time England may see fit to inflict it. The statement of the Mexican muddle recalls a very humiliating thing and nothing is offered in mitigation. The president says he has denied and protested against the exercise of power claimed by Mexico as unwarranted. But it is to be noted, all the same, that Mexico has exercised this power in tranquil contempt of all our denials and protests. In general, and in particular, the least said bout the recent management of our foreign affairs the better.

Upon revenue reform the message states clearly and firmly that sound doctrine which is its own unanswerable argument. It shows the surplus which present methods and rates of revenue are causing, said methods and rates, such as were submitted to as the burden of a war tax, and which have now been prolonged in time of peace. The injustice done to all classes is clearly out and the true remedy indicated in the recommendation that "the increasing and unneces sary surplus of national income annually accumulating, be released to the people by an amendment to our revenue laws which shall cheapen the price of the necessaries of life, and give freer entrance to such imported ma terials as by American labor may be manufactured into marketable commodities." How much this may squint at cutting off the sugar duties and so leaving more important protective duties untouched, can not be said. but granting all of the case, even such a move would be in the right direction and would tend to put these protective-tariff ounties in their true light.

Upon the question of silver coinage the president restates his former views, urging the suspension thereof. He reinforces them by allusion to the significant increase of our gold exportations. We commend him in this view, and so will all other adherents of a monetary system which is to be on a par with the systems of the world. The silver danger has not decreased because the silver men won a victory in the last congress, andbecause it has not of late occupied popular attention.

The utterance on the Indian question sound, and it is to be hoped congress will spare a little time from politics for the benefit of humanity. The message tells us that the president is an ardent civil service reformer. This is in the nature of news. It says: "If the people of this country ever submit to the banishment of its underlying principle from the operation of their government, they will abandon the surest guarantee of the safety and success of American institutions." We believe that heartily, and it is the more a matter of surprise that one who has such a clear theory should wobble so in practice. England and other monarchical countries, theory should wobble so in practice. Where the titled class governs in all; the message is, as we said, an account as well as political matters. The upon the questions of the coinage, currency revenue, naval affairs and coast defenses makes a worthy chart for congressional guidance.

Honor for Old Age.

Old age is beginning to be honored again as it should be. Friends from far and near gather about those who have lived to cele-brate their hundredth, their ninetieth, their out the muscle that acts as a hinge, and she brate their hundredth, their uinetisth, their eighty-fifth and their eightieth birthdays, delighted to be permitted to pay just and graceful bonors to one whom the years have crowned with its largest gifts. In truth, there is more in the simple tast of living than boys and girls can have any idea of. The life must have been well spent to extend beyond four-score, and that is an abiding astisfaction to the individual. It means a wisely economical expenditure of the vital forces. Old age ought to be, and is capable of being, the flower and consummation of earthly desires. All the delights of life's experience are gathered into its tranquil term. The voices of ambition, of avarice, and of the clamorous passions are hushed. Their brief day is over, not to return. To miss old age is to die nuripe, with the experience undigested and the burdens not yet thrown off.

Atlanta is fast becoming a city of handsome houses. More elegant residences were erected in the city during the past year than at any time since the war, and large sums of money are spent in fitting them up. The interior of one house is now being decorated at a cost of $15,000, and another has just been finished that cost $16,000. An order for the decoration of one, for a single parlor, just given, foots up $3,500. There are many houses, the interiors of which have been decorated at a cost of more than $10,000. At least three private residences in the city cost over $80,000.

before a case could be reached, it ought not to be more than six months. Delay is a premium to reacals and a reward of rescality. Every federal court that can not clean up its docket every year, or within a year of that, ought to be held accountable in some way. The reason ought to be known and the defect remedied, either by change of judges or the addition of them. Hon. J. E. McDonald said the other day that there was no remedy against the Bell Telephone company, whether it was right or wrong. The patent expires in six years, and there was no way of obtaining a final judgment in the supreme court for seven years. The public is absolutely powerless. All of that seven years is not consumed in waiting for the supreme court, but is in part taken by the circuit court. That, mind you, is the shortest time. If pursued with the ordinary diligence of lawyers with fat fees it would be from ten to twenty years before that ease could be finally decided.

The president has been having a serious time with rheumatism. So says Colonel Lamont. There are people who say it is gout; but then they have no means of knowing. It would not be surprising if the president had either the gout or the rheumatism. He should call it gout. Rheumatism is vulgar. Anybody can have rheumatism. It takes good living to have the gout. The president is a good liver, and takes very little exercise. Next thing to the gost I should expect him to have apopiexy. He seems to have had some apprehension of his increasing bulk when he went trotting around his back yard. There are some things worse than office-seekers, and I presume the president will not live to the end of his term. These are not based es the fact of rheumatism, but on his manner of existence. in some respects and involves the question whether the president has violated the laws of the land. Matthews was appointed recorder of deeds to the District of Columbia. He was rejected by the seniare on the vote of both parties. The president reappointed him and flatly emphasized his contempt for the seniate's advice and couseat. That is not the president's way of doing business, how-ever, and in any case would scarcely shield him from the criticism which his act is sure to elicit from the senate. This question of prerogative is very dear to the senate, and it may be expected to devote a good deal of

In the house the struggle for precedence will prevent any considerable amount of business being transacted. The investigation of the district government is not improbable. There will be a conflict over the tariff, the Reagan bill and other measures, with the prospect of the appropriation bills shutting them all out. Nothing is done before the holidays, and then all is hurry immediately afterward. The most important thing that will be nefore congress is the proposition to constitute a court of appeals mediately afterward. The most important thing that will be before congress is the proposition to constitute a court of appeals to which the private business which now makes it practically impossible for congress to do anything intelligently can be referred. The court of ciaims has enough to do. Nothing hut a special tribunal with a specific jurisdiction in such cases as come before congress every year for settlement will be competent to dispose of it.

Speaking of the court of claims, reminds me of a remark by a prominent legal gentieman who often has business before the supreme court. "Our judicial system needs remodeling," said he, "so far as it is managed by the government. The state courts are bad enough, but the federal system is a good deal worse. The machinery is too ponderous and slow." He went on thus, the principal point being that justice could only be properly and in fact administered by promptness and dispatch. A litigant with money can now drag a case along is court for a couple of lifetimes. Instead of being five or six years in the supreme court hefore a case could be reached, it ought not to be more than six months. Delay is a premium to rascals and a reward of rascality. To the Editor of The Indianapolis News.

Please give a full definition of civil and common law, and name some of the prominent writers on each.

[The civil law is the code of the Roman empire as comprised in the fastitutes of Justinian (530-33) and of Gaius, which are three centuries and a half older. They comprise the institutes, the Digest (Pundects), the code and the novelles and are called the session of the forty-ninth congress is at hand. It will formally open Monday. As a matter of fact, it has already unofficially begun. The appropriations committees, which usually monopolize the attention of congress The appropriations committees, which usually monopolize the attention of congress during the short session, have been at work for two weeks and their labors are pretty well advanced at both ends of the capitol. Congressmen have been steadily coming in on every train and the hotels show the presence of the usual crowd of itangers on incidental to the meeting of congress. The lobby is on hand in force and fairly rivals the congress of the United States in numbers and variety of schemes. Newspaper men whose faces have not been seen since adjournment are suddenly found again in their accustomed places. Some have been to Europe, some to Mexico, on business or pleasure, and some have returned from detail work of politics or society. The man who lives only in hope of an office is herearly. You can tell him as the lord high tail work of politics or society. The man who lives only in hope of an office is here early. You can tell him as the lord high admiral told the British sailor—by the expression of his eyes. It is that wistful, half-timid, half-despairing glance which tells of hope deferred. The place-hunter now-a-days has a painfully self-conscious look that reminds one of a sheep-killing dog with the wool on his teeth. There is none of that buoyancy of spirit so observable in the early days of the Cleveland reiga. He sneaks about as if he had no shirt on and was airaid somebody would make the discovery. He gazes on a congressman with an expression of admiration which young men who sock buck-horn canes for a living usually bend upon pretty shop-girls. If he can "mash" one now and then, he thinks he is only a few of its rules, and a few rules of the canon law. The term is used in contradistinction to all statute law, civil law and canon law, etc., but its proper significance is an unwritten law which receives its binding force from immemorial usage and universal reception in distinction from written or statute law. Its origin is indefinite and can be traced only to the "ancient Saxon privileges" framed by Alfred, the great. The spirit of those ancient laws is assumed to have descended with the race. The greatest writers on this system are Henry de Bracton, John Fortesque, Thomas Lyttleton, Edward Coke, Francis Bacon, Matthew Hale and William Blackstone.—ED. NEWS.]

suck buck-horn canes for a living usually bend upon pretty shop-girls. If he can "mash" one now and then, he thinks he is making headway. But those who "get on to his racket" cut him most unmercifully. I wouldn't go through the valley of humiliation which is apparently necessary these days to gain a political appointment for $10,000 a year and my board. I dare say many an honest fellow who has been through it will echo the sentiment. There are comparatively few office-seekers here now. In fact, they are more scarce than ever before To the Editor of The Indianapolis News Your correspondent, I. M. Stackhouse, in The News of the 25th inst., suggests the necessity of a constitutional amendment, in order to authorize Your correspondent, I. M. Stackhouse, in The News of the 25th inst, suggests the necessity of a constitutional amendment, in order to authorize the logislature to regulate the compensation of officers according to the services required, expresses the opinion that if such an amendment was submitted to the people it would be adopted, and the hope that some member of the incoming legislature will have the courage to move such an amendment. Now, there can be no contriversy about the necessity of reform in the matter of exceptional tees and salaries received by numerous officials; but what is needed is not a constitutional amendment, but a proper fee and salary law under the present constitution as amended.

On the 14th of March, 1811, the people of the state ado-ted an amendment to section 22, article 4 of the constitution, removing the difficulty referred to by your correspondent. This section, as amended, reads as follows; "The general assembly shall not pass local or special laws in any of the following enumerated cases; that is to say ended to officers in proportion to the population and the necessary services required."

This provision, made by the people to remedy the evil referred to, has been a dead letter ever since its adoption. What is now needed is a legislature with the courage to resist the power of the "efficers' lobby" and pass the required law.

About twenty years ago I discovered a little sore on my check, and the doctors premounced it cancer. I have tried a number of physicians, but without receiving any permament benefit. Among the number were one or two specialists. The medicine they applied was like fire to the sore, causing intense pain. I saw a statement in the papers beling what
B. S. S. had done for others similarly afflicted. I procured some at once. Before I had need the second bottle the neighbors could notice that my cancer was healing up. My general health had been had for two or three years—I had a hacking cough and spit blood continually. I had a severe pain in my breast. After taking six bottles of S. S. S. my cough leftme and I grew stouter than I had been for several years. My cancer has healed over all but a little spot about the six of a half dime, and it is rapidly disappearing. I would advise every one with cancer to give S. S. S. a fair trial.

dish of rose leaves. Two purposes are served. The perfume is exquisite. The taste is really angelic. Then, the roses are imported, you know. The unspeakable Turk has, after all, one virtue. He knows how to preserve rose leaves. He soaks them in sirup in half-pound cans, and endears them to American ladies at thirty five cents per can. Now that there is a rage for them, it is suggested that the tariff on rose leaves should be increased. The miserable Turk is taking the bread out of poor men's mouths. Why not protect the cow boy of the Americas piains and the rail-splitters "all over this broad land" (set in from a protective tariff campaign speech) by making the duty on roses so high that home raient will be able to undersell foreign hirelings? Why should not the roses that bloom in the waste places of this republic be gathered and preserved for the markets? If congress will only make the tariff high enough and will agree to eat all the roses that can be preserved, a million of men and women will be employed in gathering these fragrant flowers. Shall this great industry be nipped untimely, in its very inception, indeed? Let Congressman Bynum answer. The president has disappointed some of his admirers in this city by tailing to call the attention of congress to this matter in his message. Another omission like this will insure his deteat for re-election-at least in the first precinet of the first ward.

For a steady diet, waters make mighty in eating. But as there is a "way fer" all things, there is a way to eat wafers, especially the imported article. For those who like that sort of a thing, there is nothing more delicate and toothsome-to be taken with ice-cream, wine, or other desert-than German "sugar waffles." They may be flavored with strawberry, lemon, chocolate, or to suit. They come in boxes, containing each two and a half dozen. Another etherial piece of 100d is called the "ice cigarette water." It is of about the consistency and color of birch bark, and each wafer is curled like a piece of that bark. A box of either kind of wafers retails at the Pea Green gro-

Frozen persymmons, fat, dead-ripe, and warranted not to pucker, are among the marketable commodities. A twenty-cent pole will knock a quart-box of them. But man can not live on rose leaves, wafers or persimmons alone. He must nave eggs at 22c per dozen, and butter at 25c. And by the way best creamery butter has advanced 5c per pound and now retails at 35c. Some dealers sell 5c below that figure. Poultry is still held at 121c per pound,

There has been something of an advance in vegetables, though not all along the line. Lettuce is quoted at 50e per pound. Spinach is worth 30e per peck. Apples are scarcer, though it is believed to be only temporarily. Common, retail at 25c per peck, and faucy varieties run as high as 40e. Oranges sell at 30@60c, lemons, 30e; Calawba grapes in fair condition, at 122c per pound; Malagas, 25c. It is already known, probably, to the boys of the state, that the hickory-nut crop was not a complete success this year. The was not a complete success this year. The scarcity has been the cause of the upward tendency in the market. Shell-barks are held at 60c per peck with the large sized nus 10c lower. Walnuts are always a gitt in the market at 20c nuis 10e lower. Walnuts are always a glut in the market at 20c.

An Indiana man has solved a problem that has puzzled many generations. Nearly every man has a theory that he thinks will work in preserving sweet cider. But the best way, by general consent, is to make the cider out of acids and water. Now comes the Hoosier with the suggestion that instead of preserving cider as a liquid at the reduced to a jelly. Six gallons of cider boiled down will make one gailon of condensed or jelly-cider. This may be diluted and restored again to liquid, without (theoretically) impairing the sweetness or flavor of the apple juice. Such jelly is on the market at 10c per pound.

An abundance of feathered game is re-An abundance of feathered game is re-ported this season. Quail are especially abundant, and are retailing, dressed, at 15c each, or $1.50@1.75 per dozen. Wild turkeys sell at 15c per pound. Ducks have at times been scarce, but are now in better supply at the usual prices—Mailards, 75c per pair; teal or wood, 60c. Grouse, pheasant and prairie chickens are to be had at the usual prices.

AFTER BREER HARRIS.

The Second Church G.ven Time to Restore the Expelled Members.

About two hundred persons were present last night at the meeting of the clergy and deacons of the colored Baptists at Mt. Zion church. Many more dropped in during the evening, but Mr. Harris and his supporters were comspicuous by their absence. Wilson and Seymour were retained as moderator and secretary, and Mr. Baker was chosen sergeant-at-arms. After singing, led by Elder Williams, prayer was offered by by Elder Williams, prayer was offered by Brother Walker.

"Brother Moderator," came in deep-chested and measured tones from that usually genial and good-natured Elder Teeters, "I wasn't here at the last meetin', but I understan't that a reporter was here." The silence was oppressive as the elder went on to complain of the light and frivolous spirit in which the proceedings were detailed, and ended with a motion that "the reporter's services be now dismissed." This brought a dozen orators to their feet. Rev. Nat Seymour's oratorial gun was "joaded for b'ar," but he failed of a chance to fire, as the moderator recognized generous Deacon Burley and the sunve Thomas, whose effective speeches saved the reporter, the resolution being tabled with but five dissenting votes. Teeters took his defeat like the philosopher he is. Mr. Jenkins again rehearsed the troubles of the "excluded," and the discussion became general, Measrs Cousins, Watts, Thomas, Burley, Preston, Walker, Qurik, Teeters and others making it exceedingly lively by speeches, motions and countermotions. Elder Bassett came sailing down the aisle with the church manual in his hand and proceeded to read the law. Elder John Mor.is, of the Second church, put in an appearance and was asked to state what he knew of the now famous "expulsion." He did not seem to know anything of the charges, although he was present at the "expulsion meeting," but he made the old church ring with his eloquence and had to be stopped by the cries of "order," "atop," etc., by the moderator and scores of members in different parts of the house. Thomas rallied the council upon its cowardice, saying it seemed to him Harris was "a white elephant on the Baptism' hands, and they had not the backbone to relieve themselves." The chairman was getting uncasy, and cried out in his agony for some one to put something before the house and stop the talking. "I'm tired, and I'll have no more," said he. Elder Teeters satisfied him by offering a resolution, and a few were leaving the building. Gine w Brother Walker.

tion that he knew his act had been seen by the boys, who knew him, and that it was useless to try to escape. He was stated for arison, and at the police station he readily confessed that his crime was committed in revenge, and that if he had gotten a chance he would have burned the residence. He was recognized as the son of Philip Landers, of East Louisians street. About four years ago he was changed with larceny, but was acquitted, and soon afterward he went to Louisville, Ky., where he remained the greater part of the time until recently. His actions indicate that he is not altogether sound, mentally. The fire made a bright light; but it was speedily gotten under control by the department, and at a loss scarcely exceeding $250, which is covered by insurance in the Harttord. The property was under lease to Braden & Co., the feed store firm.

IMPORTANT TO ALL. While the cranks are fighting over the kind or style of silver-plated ware, remember that you can buy the genuine Rogers Bros.' knives, forks and spoons at Marcy's, "The" jeweler, and you will find them just as represented every time. We are not going to quit business in this city, but simply selling our mammoth stock at slaughtering prices, in order to make a change January 1. We offer big bargans in watches, diamonds and fine jewelry. Now is your time to buy cheap. Go and see. Marcy, "The" Jeweler.

It is noticeable that when the Marion county grand jury convened yesterday, the acting judge was silent on the rumored election frauds, and there was no intimation to the jury that it would be well to give the matter attention.

The characters to be represented at the paper fantasm Friday and Saturday nights will be bistory, music, art, the seasons, etc. Comedy will also be included. Tuesday night there will be a full rehearsal at the First Baptist church.

Ancient Landmarks lodge, F. and A. M., has elected: C. A. McConnell W. M., W. R. Miner S. W., Fred Riebel J. W., Paul H. Krauss treasurer, Fred M. Loomis secretary, George E. Mills S. D., A. J. Meyer J. D., C. E. Harris tyler.

The Sydenham society, which is an organization in connection with the Indiana Medical college, is reported to be doing good work this winter, and it will issue diplomas to about thirty deserving students of medicine. At the meeting Saturday evening a well-written paper on "Insanity" was presented by L. M. Beekes.

The republicans have already commenced proselyting among the colored voters, with the hope of regaining lost ground, and last night the Huston club was organized, as an auxiliary to the Lincoln league. A. J. Farley was elected president, and W. W. Walden secretary, and the organization starts with a membership of sixty.

Sunday night Captain Colbert and posse raided a poker room in the Wilson block, capturing the "lay-out" and placing Henry Kugleman, Chas. Sharpless and one Judd, alias Brown, under arrest. Yesterday the defendants were fined on pleas of guilty, and Kugleman was ordered detained, he being wanted in Johnson county for the balance of an unpaid fine for an assault and battery on a man named Jelleff.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Ox-y-gen" - "Messenger From Jarvin Section" - Cariston Opera Company.

Lillie Hall's burlesque company and Fannie Bloodgood's comedy company, a double organization, appeared at English's last night and will conclude their engagement to-night. The audience was a large one, but there was little display of millinery. The basis of the performance was Lydia Thompson's success, "Ox-y-gen," but it was so overlaid with more modern business as to be hardly distinguishable. The best part of the performance was the acrobatic and sparring feats of the Davenports and the juggling of Natta with knives, balls, etc. Maggie Cline, a robust singer of Irish songs, and one of the best in the profession, made a decided hit. The other specialists range ment to-night. The audience was a large decided hit. The other specialists range a decided hit. The other specialists range from good to very bad.

At the Museum Barney McAuley's well-known success, "A Messenger From Jarvis Section," was well presented by Mr. Daniel Gilfeather, Miss Jessie West and a fair company. It is one of the most attractive plays of the season, and promises to fill the house all the week as it did last night. In about two weeks, or as soon as the arrangements can be made an Eden Musee, modeled after the place of the same name in New York, and also after Madame Tousaud's famous wax works in Loudon, will be opened in the rooms under the theater, but entirely separate from the theater up stairs. It will be kept open continuously day and evening at a very low price of admission. The place is being elaborately fitted up by Professor Hughes, the scenic artist, and his assistants, as a grotto, and the opening attraction will be sixty groups of wax figures of life size, made by Professor Belmont, who has spent his life in such work, and who made most of the figures for the New York place. The chief group among these will be that of the Chiegore anarchists, the scene representing his life in such work, and who made most of the figures for the New York place. The chief group among these will be that of the Chicago anarchists, the scene representing the court room during their trial, and showing judge, jury, attorneys and prisoners as they then appeared. Professor Belmont was in attendance upon the trial and has since spent some time in prison with the anarchists, casting their features, so as to make his figures as true to nature as possible.

To-morrow night the engagement of the famous Carleton opera company will begin with "Nanon," one of the most tuneful of minor operas, with abundant opportunity for fine dressing. It will be played till Saturday evening, when the engagement will close with "The Mikado," with specially imported scenery and costumes. Not even the company which rehearsed under the supervision of the authors of this opera, performed it with such fidelity to detail in dress and scenery as this. The company consists of Mr. Carleton, Misses Fanny Rice, Ray Samuels, Clara Wisdom, Alice Vincents, Josephine Bartlett, and Messrs. Charles Drew, Joseph Gre nsfelder, Robert Broderick, Jay Taylor and other old favorites.

The next entertainment in the dollar lecture course series at Plymouth church will be given by A. P. Burbank to-morrow evening. He will render a program of miscellaneous recitations, including "Squeers's School," "Leah, the Forsook," "A Lullaby," "A Second Trial," "The American Claimant," "Rip Van Winkle," "Othello," "Love in Oyster Bay," "Man of Airlie" and "The Shaughraun."

The Coronial Quo Warrante.

Dr. T. A. Wagner yesterday afternoon began quo warranto proceedings in the superior court against Dr. Rooker, acting coroner, and Dr. Frank Morrison, who holds a coronial commission from the governor. The information filed sets forth that Wagner received for coroner in the late election 13,963 votes, and Morrison 13,931 votes, but by reason of the frauds committed it was made to appear that Wagner had received but 13,938 and Morrison 18,938 votes. In canvassing the votes these traudulent figures were employed, and Morrison was declared elected. Dr. Morrison had failed to qualify, however, and Dr. Rooker had declined to yield the office to the relator. The nature of the frauds committed was set forth at length. Judge Walker made the writ returnable December 17.

A Preliminary Meeting.

To-night's meeting at Plymouth church, for the purpose of organizing the work suxiliary to the convention of the Music Teach, aw National association in our city, should be well attended. It is said that the Board of Trade, the Merchants' association, the Ladies' Matines musicale, the Meudelssohn, Lyrs and Liederkranz societies will each be represented by a committee of five. It is to be hoped that our citizens generally will show their interest in this worthy cause by a good turnout to the meeting.

THE COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS. A Loan of $70,000 Authorized—The Telephone and Street Railway Companies.

At the meeting of the common council last night the mayor reported that but two pieces of the Tomlinson real estate remained un-disposed of, that the rental agent had a chance to sell the piece on Indiana avenue and also had bids within $500 of the appraiseand also had bids within $500 of the appraisement on the Illinois street row. He suggested that the property be platted in such a way as to bring the highest price, which was agreed to. The city clerk reported warrants drawn upon the treasury during November amounting to $104,790, of which $70,000 was for the payment of the temporary loan of April 1, 1886. Treasurer Mitler reported a balance on hand of $104,767. $70,000 for one year, at a rate not to exceed 5 per cent.

Chief Webster's appointment of M. W. Rogers to succeed the late Fremont Taffe, and his request for 1,500 feet of hose, were both concurred in. The final estimates of $8,447.15 for work on the new market house was read, with a statement that John A. Buchanan, the contractor, had made a mistake of $2,000 and required $807.85 in addition to his balance, to pay the sub-contractors. The recommendation to pay this was stricken out of the report. A communication was received from President Morris, of the Water-works company, stating that the reduction made by the recent ordinance would greatly embarrass the company, and asking for the passage of an ordinance substantially the same as the old. The matter was referred. The offer of H. D. Pierce, to allow the city the free use of lots for cow pounds, was accepted by a vote of 14 to 8. Mr. Mack's resolution requesting the streetcar company to extend its South Meridian street line to the Belt road was adopted, as was also a resolution offered by Mr. Rooker, directing the city attorney to report what action is necessary to require the street-car require the street-car.

was also a resolution offered by Mr. Rooker, directing the city attorney to report what action is necessary to require the street-car company to extend their Mississippi-street line from First to Twelfth street.

A motion offered by Mr. Swain was adopted, construing the resolution adopted several months ago giving the Central Union telephone company cartain privileges so as telephone company certain privileges, so as to require the company to replace instru-ments of former patrons, when so requested to do. Any refusal on the company's part to return instruments shall be deemed suf-ficient reason for a withdrawal of permission to operate a telephone service in this city.

Professor Radford On Progress. Professor Radford, of Eureka college, tured last night at the Third Christian church on "Progress." He found in causa tion the seeking out the causes of things; in other words, in science, the chief line of progress. Building houses and counting noses is not progressing, but man's mastery of nature is the criterion of progress. The lecture was suggestive and entertaining to a high decree.

Legislative Notes. The democrats of St. Joseph county have called a mass meeting of citizens to protect called a mass meeting of citizens to protect the rights of Stull and Metzger, who were fairly elected, they claim, to the legislature. There is an alleged purpose of the repub-licans to seat Miller and Daily. J. H. Rerick, of the Lagrange Standard, is a candidate for clerk of the house.

ST. VITUS'S DANCE CURED.

ST. VITUS'S DANCE CURED.

FARMINDDALE, L. I., N. Y., September 2, 1885.

I have been troubled for several years with an affection of the nerves which no doctor or no medicine could cure until I tried Brandreth's Pills. I would be taken with a violent pain in the middle of my spine, and my arms and legs would twitch violently. It acted something like St. Vitus Dance, for I couldn't control my limbs, It would come and go once or twice a month, lasting two or three days at a time. Finally, at the beginning of one of one of my attacks, I took five Brandreth's Pills. As soon as they acted freely I found myself almost well. So I continued taking them for a month—one or two a night. It is now a year since I have had an attack, and I attribute my cure to Brandreth's Pills.

DIAIT

Our Souvenir this week to our esteemed patrons is of special interest to the ladies, who always admit that a thing of.

BEAUTY

Is a joy forever. As an illustration of the purity of our Teas and Coffees, we have selected this beautiful art gem, entitled

BEAUTY.

In which every feature and expression plainly denotes Purity. As heretofore, we always aim to share with our friends that part of our profit which we secure by being importers and selling direct to consumers. This advantage enables us to present to our patrons from time to time a small token of our appreciation, and there is the

BEAUTY.

Remember, for this week only.
